GUEST SPEAKER FOR SEPTEMBER GENERAL MEETING WILL BE GEORGIA FREEDMAN-HARVEY, MIXED MEDIA ARTIST AND CURATOR. Georgia is a curator, and art advisor to private and public art collections, and for artists and artist estates. She has served as the curator for a number of institutions. Her curatorial credits include exhibits here and abroad, including in Vienna and Jerusalem. Many of her curatorial writings have been published. She has taught art in a number of settings, and has had her artwork included in multiple exhibitions. She has worked in a number of settings using art for healing purposes, and has received several grants to work with veterans in recovery and teens with chronic illnesses. She also speaks with artists about creating their legacy and does workshops on how to prepare for the future. She currently serves as the curator for the newly established Pico Union Gallery at the Pico Union Project in addition to her other art related work.

Two mixed media works by Nick Cave at the Nelson Atkins Museum, Kansas City MO
 From museum notes: Nick Cave's Soundsuits reflect inspiration from many sources. . . . Cave has embraced masquerade as practiced by many cultures and allowed it to inform his art. . . .[artist is quoted] "I'm looking at rituals and ceremonies; Mardi Gras, Indian clothing, West African pieces, Carnival in Trinidad."
